

Men's Bowling

Program Overview

Coach Decibus won his sixth NJCAA Coach of the Year Award in March 2007 when his team won the school's 17th NJCAA National Title in Men's Bowling.

Coach Decibus has also been privileged to have many All-Americans and professional bowlers come through the program during his tenure, most recently Joe Ciccone and Brad Angelo, both PBA Rookies of the Year.

After bowling for the team in 1990-1992, he came on as a coach and eventually the men's head coach. Coach Decibus has an A.A.S. in General Studies and Recreation Leadership from ECC and a B.A. from UB in Psychology.

The 2006-07 NJCAA National Champions

Program Accomplishments

With 17 NJCAA championships and two CUSA national titles, the ECC men's bowling program can be considered the most successful among any two- or four- year college in the country. The recent success includes four NJCAA championships and five Region III titles since 2000.

Many ECC bowling alumni have went on to have outstanding professional careers. Former ECC bowlers Joe Ciccone, Brad Angelo and Brad Kiszewski have each earned the PBA Tour Rookie of the Year Award. Other alumni of the program that have enjoyed success include Mike Neumann and Bob Ujvari, who have won four and two eagles, respectively, at the ABC National Tournament.

Perhaps the biggest accomplishment of the program is the large number of All-Americans, All-Region and Academic All-Americans that the school has produced.
